

Composed Among the Ruins of a Castle in North Wales - Wordsworth

In celebration of Saint David's Day 2016 (or Dydd Dewi Sant), LibriVox volunteers present 9 readings of Composed Among the Ruins of a Castle in North Wales by William Wordsworth.

This was the Weekly Poem for February 29, 2016.

Embodying the melancholy of the uniquely welsh word "hiraeth", which roughly translates as a sense of longing for a place that can never be returned to or that never was, this poem is a fitting tribute to the celebration of the patron saint of Wales. – (Summary by Charlotte Duckett)
